HYPERALLERGIC

Your Concise Los Angeles Art Guide for February 2021

Written by: Matt Stromberg and Elisa Wouk Almino

February 3, 2021

Your list of must-see, fun, insightful, and very Los Angeles art events this month.

Navigate a virtual spiral staircase, bask among outdoor blowup sculptures, listen to a 20-minute orchestral soundscape, and learn about an artist's relationship to prosthetics. This is just a sample of what's in store this month.

Please note that with such a high rate of coronavirus infections in Los Angeles, most galleries are open by appointment only or are presenting their exhibitions online.

Teacups: Robert Russell

Robert Russell, "Teacup #8" (2020), oil on canvas

In this exhibition of teacup paintings, Robert Russell returns with his typical photorealistic style. Mysteriously set against deep black backgrounds, the larger-than-life teacups are carefully rendered like individual portraits. Russell based his surprisingly moving images on photos found on eBay listings and online estate sales.
