whitewall

Felix LA 2021 Presents an All-Local Lineup Poolside in Hollywood
Written by: Pearl Fontaine
July 26, 2021

Greg Ito, "The Guardian," 2018, 21 x 34 x 21 inches, Acrylic, uv protective varnish, and neon on cast resin, courtesy of the artist and Anat Ebgi.

Felix LA returns with an all-local edition taking place at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel from July 29—August 1. Coinciding with LA Gallery Weekend, this intimate iteration of the contemporary art fair, presented in partnership with Boxed Water, will see 29 Los Angeles galleries in an indoor-outdoor setting.

Fairgoers can expect to view in and around the pool's open-air cabanas, while music by Insomniac LTD plays poolside. Within this picturesque and personal format, viewers will find presentations by Meriem Bennani; Aaron Garber-Maikovska, Daniel Dwear, and Grégory Gicquel with CLEARING; Emma Soucek on view with Parrasch Heijnen Gallery; a group presentation by Roberts Projects with names like Betye Saar and Lenz Geerk; and Anat Ebgi's showcase of works that explore themes like memory, voyeurism, and psychological states.